

Freiheit. Du große Wundertüte

You feel freedom on the ground, with soft grass beneath you.

You feel freedom at lofty heights.

Freedom means being allowed to know all there is and to ask anything that springs to mind.

Freedom means not having to put up with everything from people bigger than you.

Sometimes freedom is rather smelly: Of sweat and feet.

Freedom means being allowed to like, kiss, hug, cuddle and looove anyone you want.

Freedom gives you a solid promise: Be whoever you want to be.

...Even if it means being different from everyone else.

Freedom means: the little ones can do as much as the big ones. The poor as much as the rich. The weak as much as the strong. And even superheroes don't get any special treatment!!

Sometimes, freedom presents you with rather tricky problems.

You find freedom everywhere. Even in places where it is not allowed.

Freedom feels pretty great on your own ... and together with loads, loads, loads, loads of others as well, of course!

But – and that's very important: Freedom also always means the freedom of others.

Because freedom has countless faces.

Ultimately, freedom is free for everyone.

... And yet many people pay a high price for it.

Again and again, freedom requires lots of courage.

And lots of imagination!

Freedom is a human right!
